

John 17:5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

And Father, know that glory past I have with you, before world, your presence, that glory, that honor give me.

